Target Audience

Families, Students, Casual
Users, Second-device
Seekers

These users want smooth, everyday computing in a space-saving format. They desire a simple design, an easy-to-use interface, and good visuals. These users often treat their home computers as extensions of their cellphones and use them for general activities, such as web browsing, social media networking, watching content, and family photos/videos storage. Their new computer should fit in to their existing home setup and be able to meet all their daily productivity or recreational needs. They also want their computers to be tools for learning for their children.

Aspire 3

Meet all your daily computing needs with the Aspire 3 laptop. Its combination of powerful tech and thoughtful design features make it the ideal device for work or recreation.
